DELIVERY DISCLAIMER: All delivery times will be determined the night before delivery. You must provide us with your most direct contact telephone number, which is (____) _____ - _____. If you live in a building that requires a certificate of insurance, we require 48 hours notice in order to coordinate with our insurance provider and your building. Due to time constraints and uncertainty with respect to other deliveries/installations, we will provide you with a estimated delivery time window. We will attempt as best as possible to comply with the set delivery time, but by signing below you confirm your understanding that delivery may be delayed beyond the time due to unforeseen circumstances or difficulties. We also require that you provide a clear path to final delivery location. Delivery charges, if applicable, are based on such delivery(ies) being made to the first floor of the building/ residence. You must advise if such delivery is to be anywhere other than the first floor, at which time additional charges may apply. If the floor over which the delivery men must travel is comprised of wood floors, Designer Appliances will provide a dolly with rubberized wheels and masonite for final delivery location. It will be the responsibility of the owner to provide additional protection if required. Designer Appliances will not be held responsible, in any way, for damage which results from unprotected floors.
