How Rell Holstine started a business that paid him profits the first year

RELL SAYS ★

"I first became interested in the Gamble Store Dealership Plan in 1935. My future in the manufacturing industry looked very promising indeed, but I had always had a desire to be in some business for myself and when our Dealership plan was presented to me it struck me as just what I had been looking for.

My only obstacle then was enough money to finance a Gamble Dealership. I was living in Illinois and heard there were some good towns available in Missouri. I came over and decided to try this town.

I went to the Bank and presented them my ideas about opening a store here and told them I needed some money and that I wanted to borrow it from what was going to be my home town bank if possible. They told me that they would do a little checking up and if they found that I was what I said I was and this proposition was what I said it was, for me to go ahead and they would see me through financially —and they did.

I opened my store on June 15, 1935. The first eleven days I sold eleven radios and a bicycle which was rather encouraging to me as a beginner with a total capital of $2,000.00

Business has steadily increased and we have more than doubled our stock. We have had two new trucks, and two new cars. Have also taken several pleasure trips—Florida, California and Boston.

The least we can say is that had it not been for Gamble's easy and positive plan of helping people get into business for themselves I might still be getting nowhere.

This letter may be used as my personal endorsement to the Gamble Stores Dealer Plan. I know of no better field for people who want to go into business for themselves."

Gas House Gang Ekes Out Close Tilt, 15-14

The Gas House Gang of Clover Bottom won their third game in five tries Sunday on their home field, whipping the Plough Handles 15 to 14 in another of those slugfests which only the Clover Bottom team can portray.

Although Walter Elbert batted and hurled his team to victory it was young Tony Manhart who stole the show. Tony turned in five hits in six attempts, topping Elbert's four safeties out of five. Felix Klahs also connected for two bingles.

Louis Manhart and Buddy Hilterman tailed for the losers.

The Plough Handles will take on Lyon this Sunday in hope of again getting back in the payoff column. They have dropped their last three games, two by one-run margins. Hillermann fanned the first two men to face him in the Clover Bottom half of the nine inning Sunday, and had only to get the final out. But a hit batsman, an error, a single, walk and another one-bagger broke up the game.

Birds Learn 7-11 Combination Is Lucky, Ballwin Defeated

The seven-eleven combination, according to those who dabble in dice, cannot be beaten. Washington: 7 runs, 11 hits.

The Birds were the recipients of some first class pitching Sunday afternoon, and as a result took a well-played ball game from Ballwin, 7-4.

The duo hurling act of Charlie Holtmeyer and Big Bill Kissinger set the Ballwin nine down on nine scattered safeties. The victory brought the Reinschmen back to an even keel at 3 won and 3 lost.

Kenny Burkiage had a perfect day at the plate with 3 for 3 while the Witholter brothers collaborated on five hits, Emil getting three and Bobby two.

Belle Scores 2 Runs In Ninth To Hand Buhrs Their 1st Loss

The Buhr-Belle game Sunday afternoon at the city park was one of those "it was a hard fight, Ma, but I won" affairs as far as Belle is concerned. The Maries county team emerged a 6-5 winner by virtue of their two-run rally in the final inning, after having led the home club through most of the game.

Bob Buhr, on the mound for the Eckelkampmen, gave up 8 hits but kept them well spaced. Belle was handcuffed for the first 8 innings on five hits. Three additional in the 9th were of the scratch nature.

The local attack was made up largely of two hits apiece by Eddie Riegel, Mel Buhr and Whip Eckelkamp. Decker and Slickman accounted for four of the eight Belle hits.

It was the first loss of the season for the Buhr team. Sunday they face Union on the latter club's field.

Ritz Nine to Play Clover Bottom Sunday

The St. John's Giants failed to solve the combined deliveries of Fritz Kriete and Eddie Harnbuckle last Sunday, losing to the local outfit, 8-4. Otten, St. John's hurler, fanned 12.

After an open date June 1, the Ritz Beveragemen will take on Clover Bottom at the air-conditioned Clover Bottom stadium—where the west wind blows and bases on balls are the result.

Krakow Crushed By Stumpe and His Stompers

The Stumpe Stubble Stompers, on the crest of a three-game winning streak, trampled Krakow Sunday afternoon, 7-3.

Krakow was held scoreless for eight innings, counting all of their runs in the final frame.

Package Liquor Kegeling Trio Annexes Title

The Package Liquor bowling trio, captained by veteran Jap Eckelkamp, won the championship of the Classic League last Wednesday night. The final score was 2,778 to 2,674, a 104-pin margin for the winners.

The secret of the victory was Fritz Cassette's fine kegling. His 975 pins for the five-game match was 50 pins better than the next high, an average of 195. Bud Hennelmeier is the third member of the championship team.

The losing three, composed of Captain Leo Vitt, Albert and Eddie Blackman, were winners of the second half of a split season, Eckelkamp and his teammates winning the first.

There were no handicaps given as the Classic League is the only circuit in the city bowling on a scratch basis. With the finish of this match the alleys officially closed for the 1940-41 season.

The scores:

Cassette	975	Hennelmeier	898
Eckelkamp	906
Eddie Blackman	925	Lester Vitt	904
Albert Blackman	845

Glaser Stars as Thirsty Niners Trim Tribe 20-7

The Thirsty Nine baseball club, with Jim Glaser on the firing line and contributing three home runs, ran wild over the Downs Indians at Buhrs diamond, winning a seven-inning baseball riot, 20-7.

Paul Purzner, Alfie Altemueller and Vernon Derner failed to confuse the winners, giving up an even seven runs in the first and seventh innings, and an additional six markers in the five other frames. In only the sixth the Thirsty chaps were scoreless.

Paully Steinmetz hurled the first two innings, Glaser the final five.

The Tribe will travel Sunday to Cedar Grove Park, Robertsville, for a game with the Cedar Grove Negro nine.

Voss Youngsters Yield 15-5 to Gasconade Nine

Gasconade proved too much for Henry Voss' Columbian Squires Sunday. It was just one of those affairs where a bunch of men men trimmed a bunch of kids, but the kids were in there fighting, never mistake that. And with a few breaks early in the game the Voss nine might well have made things hot for their older opponents. The score was 15 to 5.

Davey Daugherty, mainstay southpaw of the Squires, tired after hurling six creditable rounds. There were, of course, 12 runs scored off him but the majority of this even dozen could be attributed to those old fashioned things scorekeepers call errors.

Hermann will call here Sunday afternoon for a return game with the Voss aggregation. The game will be played on the East End Diamond, starting at 2:30 o'clock.
