THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The more I read about it, Judge, the more I realize the tactics and requirements of this war are so different from the one I fought in 25 years ago as night is from day."
"Yes, and I can give you an example of how true that is, Fred. In World War I the chief uses of alcohol produced for war purposes were found in smokeless powder, medical supplies and chemical warfare materials. In this war the need for this product is far more vital because it is also used as a fuel to propel torpedoes, to make shatterproof glass for airplane windshields and instrument covers, to make lacquers used in camouflaging equipment and as a base for synthetic rubber needed for tires, gas masks, paratroop equipment and dozens of other things."

"Every time I think of it, Fred, I realize how fortunate we were in having a beverage distilling industry in existence when war broke out... ready and eager to convert 100% to the production of this critically needed war product. I'm mighty sure bootleggers wouldn't have been of much help."

Missouri's PIONEERS

Explorers and emigrants, traders and trappers, missionaries and miners—all played their part in wresting Missouri from the wilderness. Daniel Boone, famous frontiersman; the Chouteaus; LaCledé; Lisa; Pike; Renault; Lewis and Clark; Ashley and Austin—Missouri pioneers we remember and revere. Our pioneers peopled Missouri. In addition, their dauntless spirit drove many on—over our rivers and over the Oregon-California and Santa Fe trails, converging here—to speed development of western America and make Missouri "Mother of the West." Today, Missourians continue to be pathfinders in many fields. This hardy heritage of pioneering progress accounts for Missouri's everlasting greatness.

MISSOURI ASSOCIATION OF PUBLIC UTILITIES

101 West High St., Jefferson City

THE PUBLIC UTILITY COMPANIES OF MISSOURI and their 20,000 employees—your fellow citizens—have also pioneered in providing the services of electricity, gas and water so essential to Missouri's development and progress. These companies have brought large investments into the State to build these service facilities. They pay a substantial share of the taxes which support State, County and local governments and schools. In addition to their Federal tax payments, your utility companies join in your pride in Missouri and in your interest in Missouri's continued progress.
