SAVANNAH COUNTY

At a point where the old Bar-Gaerlich ridge crosses Highway 50, a 50-foot started deep sought to leap across the highway, misjudged the distance and landed on a motorcycle on which a young soldier and a girl companion were riding. The animal striking the vehicle just in front of the handle bar. The impact killed the deer and severed the motorcycle off the highway and into a four-foot drainage ditch. The soldier and his girl companion were thrown with great force a distance of fifteen feet, over a wire and into a corn field. The soldier suffered painful injuries to his right side. The girl had her torso severely and suffered a painful injury to her back. Conservation agents took charge of the dead deer. About thirty persons took ill suddenly at a sale near Owensville from what appeared to be poisoning. A call was sent out for all available physicians and ambulances. Some of the afflicted have not yet fully recovered. The ladies prepared the lunch that morning and used only yeast and granulated loaves to prepare chicken sandwiches and chili, and although granulated loaves were used, it is believed that the food would contain no lead.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Crider celebrated their golden wedding anniversary October 14 at their home on Miami road.

Joe Makiowski of Canaan was leading a young bull to the barn when it became frightened and in the struggle threw him to the ground, breaking his left arm and left leg.

Married: Cpl. Elmer West of Belle, stationed at Camp Campbell, Ky., and Miss Marjorie Dahms of Owensville.
